Grace Cottage Voted “Best Place to Work” and “Best Physical Therapy”

We are pleased and proud to announce that Grace Cottage has been named “Best Place to Work” and “Best Physical Therapy” in the Brattleboro Reformer’s 2017 Readers Choice Awards! Testimonials, below, from employees about what it’s like to work here mean so much. There can be no question that “Best Place to Work” and “Best Physical Therapy” go hand-in-hand with the national award we received this spring, “Top 20 Critical Access Hospital in the United States for Patient Satisfaction.”

“Grace Cottage is an amazing place to be, whether you are a patient or an employee. I have been blessed to work here for 5 ½ years, where we are supported, treated as family, and this wonderful culture of ‘We Go Beyond Patient Care’ is embraced, promoted, and fully supported….we are blessed at Grace Cottage to have a team full of providers and nurses who care about what they do and LOVE what they do!”

– Verna Jostyn, Business Office

“What a wonderful experience it has been for me to be an employee at Grace Cottage! My son and I must relocate to Pennsylvania, but for the past 7 years I’ve been providing Diagnostic Imaging Ultrasound services here. It has been a great honor to personally experience the true empathy, dedication, and respect the medical providers here give to the local community. I had never before experienced the feeling of community that exists here. Thank you, Grace Cottage, for being such a positive chapter in my life!”

– Brenda Horgan Smith, Sonography

Heat, Glorious Heat!

We want to thank everyone who contributed so generously to the new Heating/Ventilation/Air Conditioning (HVAC) system that is currently being installed in Grace Cottage Family Health. The ancient steam boiler system failed last winter, so time was of the essence for replacement. The total project cost, including insulation, was over $500,000, and much of the amount needed has been raised since fundraising began in June, thanks to numerous generous supporters and the proceeds of Hospital Fair Day. Grace Cottage’s energy consumption has decreased almost 30% since 2009, and this project will help to reduce our energy cost and consumption by $30,000 a year (based on current energy costs).

“Compared to the other hospitals, your patient satisfaction is through the roof. It really is a different model. Obviously it’s got something to do with scale, but it’s got to do with other things that are tangible…we really do realize what a valuable resource you are to Vermont. You’re a standard in many ways that other people can’t even think about, and it’s important that you stay there and stay alive.”

– Con Hogan, State of Vermont Green Mountain Care Board

CEO Roger Allbee to Retire

Grace Cottage CEO Roger Allbee announced in July that he will be retiring as soon as a new CEO has been hired. A healthcare search firm, Phillips DiPisa, has been hired to manage this process which, it is hoped, will be wrapped up by early 2018.

“The Board is pleased with the direction that Grace Cottage Family Health & Hospital has taken during Roger’s tenure here over the past three years,” said Board Chair, Stephan Morse. “Without Roger’s dedicated service, Grace Cottage would be a very different facility today. Under his leadership, Grace Cottage has been recognized locally, statewide, and nationally for exceptional patient care.”

“It’s been a privilege for me to serve as Grace Cottage’s chief administrator,” said Allbee. “We have an excellent team of providers, a dedicated and professional staff, and a community that generously and wholeheartedly supports Grace Cottage because of the quality of the care that we provide. I’ll miss it, but I’m not going far – my wife and I will continue to live in Townshend and I’ll be around!”
A Word From the CEO

It’s been a very steep learning curve for me during the past three years moving, as I did, from the field of agriculture (pun intended) to healthcare. The most important takeaways for me are:

- Grace Cottage is excellent at what we do. We recognize that we have a certain niche – primary and preventative healthcare, rehabilitation services, a Critical Access Hospital with extremely high patient satisfaction scores, our Community Health Team, to name a few. We stick to our knitting, only doing what we do best, and we have wonderful providers.

- The economic paradigm in healthcare is upside down. Primary care, wellness services, preventative care – these aren’t reimbursed well, or at all; the money goes to specialized services and tertiary care. How is our nation going to shift from fee-for-service to value-based payment?

- In this day and age of healthcare reform and mega-mergers, how do we keep the lights on at Grace Cottage? The number of Critical Access Hospitals in the U.S. has shrunk from 2,500 in 2007 to 1,332 today. Many that still exist have been taken over by large healthcare systems, while Grace Cottage remains independent (yet very collaborative). We know that increasing productivity without compromising patient care is challenging, but key to our success. We need to reduce costs where we can, and increase revenue.

- Our community support is unparalleled for our size. At last count, we had 230 active volunteers (including Fair Day) that give so generously of their time, expertise, and energy. This year, we’ve received over 2,300 individual donations, totaling over $1.3 million; these gifts enable us to buy new equipment and provide certain services that we wouldn’t otherwise be able to offer (the expansion of our Community Health Team is just one example).

I look forward to continuing to serve on the Grace Cottage Family Health & Hospital Board, as we work to ensure Grace Cottage’s continued focus on primary care for the community that we serve.

– Roger Allbee, CEO

Grateful patients write:

“We want to give a great big thank you to Danny and the staff who worked Monday evening 4/24/17. They were quick in diagnosing our little girl with appendicitis and making arrangements for her to go to Dartmouth. They were comforting to her and the male nurse was stern with her when needed to be sure she got the care she needed in her situation. I have a lot of respect for that. She had surgery and is recovering nicely thanks to that team and their quickness in her care. A big thank you from the Corrieveaus!”

– Crystal Lyn Corrieveau, Windham, VT

“Grace Cottage has saved my life several times over the years. My family and I are very grateful!”

– Nell Lasch, South Newfane, VT

Mass Casualty Training

Grace Cottage teamed up with Rescue, Inc. and Leland and Gray High School in May to conduct a mass casualty exercise, to test our readiness and capability to respond should a mass casualty incident occur. Leland & Gray students acted as accident victims, Rescue, Inc. transported them to Grace Cottage’s ER, and the team at Grace Cottage’s ER passed the “test” with flying colors. We hope that such an event never transpires but, if it does, Grace Cottage will be prepared.

A grateful patient writes:

“Thank you for the wonderful care I received while recovering from injuries I suffered in an auto accident last year. The staff couldn’t have been more caring.

The nursing staff was great, but I want to make particular reference to Hilarie Walsh and Jodi Perkins, who were outstanding. It’s often the little things that matter: checking on you often, giving you advice, and making sure you are comfortable enough to get some sleep.

I was also very impressed with the quality of care I received from physical and occupational therapists, who gave me a good start on being able to cope when I returned home.

Thanks to the doctors and nurses, I recovered nicely and am able to go about my usual daily routine.”

– Aine Paulus, Walpole, NH

A Ton of Tomatoes!
In partnership with the West River Valley Community Project and the Townshend Community Food Shelf, Grace Cottage is collecting fresh tomatoes throughout the growing season, processing, and freezing them for distribution to families in this area throughout the year. Our goal is to collect one full ton (2,000 lbs.) of tomatoes. By the time you read this newsletter, we hope to have achieved our goal of stocking the Food Shelf with local, nutritious tomatoes throughout the winter months.

Grateful patients write:

“I travel a lot and I’ve never been to a place like Grace Cottage. You do such a wonderful job. Everyone is efficient and nice; Grace Cottage is very precious.”

–Claude Rollins, Bondville, VT

“Grace Cottage is an excellent hospital with a wonderful staff. The level of respect and caring that I was shown in the ER was amazing, and the staff is so well educated. They do a great job. I changed my primary care physician to Grace Cottage because of how well I was treated in the ER.”

–John Pease, Brattleboro, VT
Many thanks to the 107 bicyclists who rode down the mountain from Stratton to Grace Cottage to help raise money for the hospital on Saturday, July 8. Although the weather forecast was dismal, the rain held off until the end, so that only the last 10 riders got soaked, and the first thunderclap was heard just as the final rider crossed the finish line at noon.

Tour de Grace is sponsored by Stratton Mountain Resort, Solstice at Stratton, Village Square Shops at Stratton, Cota & Cota, D&K Jamaica Grocery, Equipe Sport, Howard Printing, and Three Mountain Inn. Special thanks also to the Army Corps of Engineers, who cleared the riverside trails prior to the ride, and to Rescue, Inc. for “sweeping” the route. More than 35 volunteers and Stratton staff, including shuttle bus drivers (most bicyclists don’t want to ride 19 miles back up the mountain!), helped to make the event a success, and over $6,000 was raised for Grace Cottage. Next year’s event will be on Saturday, July 7, and we hope you’ll join us – it’s fabulous family fun!

Dire forecasts of thunderstorms all day (which never transpired, at least in Townshend!), plus rain in the early morning and a deluge at 2:45 (with some sunny skies in between) meant that there was never a dull moment at this year’s Hospital Fair Day on Saturday, August 5th. However, intrepid, loyal, and generous fairgoers came through for Grace Cottage, and the amount raised in one day on the Common was $60,364.27, which is $305 MORE than last year’s total. After Fair Day expenses, this should net about $40,000 for Grace Cottage’s Heat Fund (see page 1).

Many volunteers at almost every booth commented that people were indeed very generous this year. A cashier at the Food Booth said that a young boy handed her $5 for onion rings and when she gave him his $1 change, he looked at it and then handed it back to her, saying, “I’ve been in the Grace Cottage Emergency Room three times for stitches – keep the change!”

A similar refrain was heard often from fairgoers of all ages, at every booth. The Auction was wonderful, thanks to auctioneer Kit Martin and his many helpers, including Dr. Robert Backus.

THANK YOU for your support of our community hospital. It takes an army of volunteers to plan, organize, set up, manage, and take down Fair Day, and your help is so appreciated, as is the attendance of so many fairgoers. An 8-year-old boy from Ridgewood, NY, told a volunteer: “I’ve been coming to Fair Day with my grandparents since I was three – it’s a tradition!” We hope that it has been or will become a tradition for your family as well!

We’re ready to start picking up items for next year’s fair, but are in desperate need for a volunteer driver with a truck. Call me at 802-365-9992.

Grace Cottage Auxiliary & Fair Day Chairperson

Do you have trouble falling asleep or staying asleep? If so, you are not alone. 40% of Americans report that they get less than the recommended seven or more hours of sleep per night.

If you are among that 40%, you may want to start by visiting your primary care provider to determine if you have a physiological issue. For example, sleep apnea (pauses in your breathing during sleep), a common disruptor to the natural sleep cycles, is treatable. Those whose insomnia is brought on by anxiety may find that mental health counseling helps. The following are sleep tips from some of our medical providers at Grace Cottage Family Health:

Eileen Arama, Licensed Clinical Social Worker: What helps me is to “relax and be OK with it.” I stay in bed, make myself comfortable, and enjoy the dark and the quiet of the night. I breathe and tell myself that if I am resting both my brain and my body, I will manage my day just fine.

Dr. Ewa Arnold: The best sleep environment is a cool, dark room. And reserve the bedroom for two activities only—sex and sleeping.

Jorda Daigneault, Family Nurse Practitioner: Avoid alcohol. Instead, I drink Sleepy Time tea. It has herbs that relax you and are good for your stomach. Reading in bed for a few minutes (a book, not an electronic device) always puts me to sleep!

Dr. Maurice Geurts: Sleep in a dark, quiet bedroom. Have a regular bedtime.

Natalie Harding, Physician Assistant: Do 30 minutes of yoga before bed. Meditation also helps.

Dr. Elizabeth Linder (Pediatrician): Kids benefit from a regular bedtime routine. Turning off the TV, the phone, and the computer an hour or two before bedtime helps. And the old tried-and-true method is still one of the most effective ones: read a bedtime story together.

Dr. Moss Linder: A regular exercise routine during the day will help you sleep better at night. Try to walk 30 minutes a day, outside if possible.

Devan Lucier, Adult Gerontology Nurse Practitioner: Avoid taking naps during the day if possible. And if you lie in bed watching the clock, hide the clock!

Louise McDevitt, Family Nurse Practitioner: If insomnia lasts more than a couple of months, it's important to see your medical provider to identify the cause. It could be related to anxiety, excess weight, posture, or medications.

Dr. Timothy Shafer: Exercise daily. No caffeine after mid-day. Don’t go to bed until you are ready to sleep.

Benjamin Wright, Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner: Dr. Andrew Weil’s 4-7-8 breathing technique is very helpful for sleep and for stress. Inhale to a count of four, hold your breath for a count of seven, and exhale for a count of eight. If you do it regularly, it becomes a habit that can kick in naturally to help you relax.
